

A.C. Milan

- One of the most successful professional soccer teams of all time.
- Play in Milan, Italy as part of the top Serie A Italian professional league.
- The club has won 18 UEFA (Union of European Football Associations) and FIFA (International Federation of Association Football) international titles, tied for the most ever.
- Has 4 world titles, the most of any club (1 FIFA Club World Cup and 3 Intercontinental Cups).
- Team nicknames are il Diavolo (the Devil) and Rossoneri (the Red-Blacks).
- The owner of the club is Italy's Prime Minister Silvio Berlusconi.
- A.C. Milan has 17 Serie A championships, 2 Serie B championships, 5 Coppa Italia and 5 Supercoppa Italiana.
- Will play in the 2010 Champions League, entering in the Group Stage.
- The team has seven players on the roster who are playing in the 2010 World Cup. They are: Oguchi Onyewu (United States), Dominic Adiyiah (Ghana), Thaga Silva (Brazil), Klaas-Jan Huntelaar (Holland), Gianluca Zambrotta (Italy), Gennaro Gattuso (Italy) and Andrea Pirlo (Italy).
- Other notable players not on World Cup squads: 2-time FIFA World Player of the Year Ronaldinho and young goal-scoring phenom Alexandre Pato.

Panathinaikos F.C.

- Current champions of Greek professional soccer.
- Play in Athens, Greece as part of the Superleague Greece.
- Team nickname is the Shamrock (“Trifylli” or “Τριφύλλι”).
- Won the Greek Championship 20 times and the Greek Cup 17 times, second-most of all Greek teams.
- Panathinaikos has been runner-up in the Intercontinental Cup and the European Cup.
- Will play in the 2010 UEFA Champions League, entering in the Third Qualifying Round.
- The team has 10 players on their roster who are playing in the 2010 World Cup. They are: Djibril Cissé (France), Gilberto Silva (Brazil), Giorgos Karagounis (Captain of Greek national team), Sotiris Ninis (Greece), Loukas Vyntra (Greece), Giourkas Seitaridis (Greece), Kostas Katsouranis (Greece) Alexandros Tzorvas (Greece), Nikos Spiropoulos (Greece) and Dimitris Salpididis (Greece).